SHANGHAI BLOODY GROUPS ORGANIZE TERRORIST CAMPAIGN

Wong Mei-shun, the South China half back who scored five goals while on tour in Java.

S. CHINA XI RETURN TO HONG KONG

Footballers Had Great Tour.

GUESTS OF ASSOCIATION
TONIGHT

Results of Java Tour

The South China Athletic Association touring football eleven arrived back in the Colony this morning on the D'Artagnan after their tour of Java. The players all looked very fit and expressed optimism regarding their chances of establishing themselves again as the premier soccer team in the Colony during the coming League season.

A large crowd awaited the arrival of the tourists at the wharf, and many leading Chinese sportsmen went on board to welcome Lee Wai-tong and his team back to the Colony. Most of the players, however, eluded publicity and left the boat as soon as they could.

Tonight they will again be together when they are the guests of honour at a welcome meeting in the Association's Hall at 7 p.m.

RESULTS OF TOUR

The South China team had the following record at the conclusion of their two and a half months tour of Java:

P.	W.	L.	D.	For	Agst.
23	19	2	2	89	28

The following were the results of the 1931 tour.

P.	W.	L.	D.	For	Agst.
24	21	0	3	110	23

Though not so successful as the preceding touring team, Lee Wai-tong's XI won nineteen of their fixtures, lost two and drew two. The 1931 tour was even better than this year's in that not a single reverse was experienced throughout the programme of twenty-four matches, of which three games were drawn.

POLICE WATCH FOR NIHILIST PLOTS BLOODY GROUP PLANS CONCERTED ACTION.

NEW REIGN OF TERROR

(From Our Own Correspondent).

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.

IN ADDITION TO THE EVER-PRESENT MENACE FROM THE TERRORIST BANDS UNDER THE NOMENCLATURE OF THE "BLOODY GROUP," POLICE HERE ARE NOW CONCERNED WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF THE OUTBREAK OF NIHILISM IN COMMUNIST SOURCES. SHANGHAI FEELS THE TENSION AND THE NEWS WHICH IS NOW OPENLY DISCUSSED, AS TO THE PLANS OF THE TERRORISTS TO WREAK AWFUL VENGEANCE UPON BOYCOTT-BREAKING MERCHANTS, CAUSES SOME CONSIDERABLE UNEASINESS IN CERTAIN QUARTERS.

"The Red Blood Group for the Extermination of Traitors" has decided to amalgamate with the original "Bloody Group," organised for the same purpose, and intends henceforth to present a united front against merchants selling or in any way dealing with Japanese goods.

A meeting of leaders has been called for Friday, whereafter all Bloody Groups will be merged into a single body, directed by a special committee consisting of men of the intelligentsia.

But, despite its aristocratic directors, the Bloody Group will wield a savage weapon and its vengeance will be terrible.

Careful Preparation.

Meanwhile, another fortnight's holiday from terrorism has been declared, but it is simply for the purpose of enabling organisers to perfect the plans of their campaign. Incidentally, the inactivity is playing a strange trick upon the psychology of merchants generally. The very quiet appears to be a menace.

Among other things, the new Bloody Group will establish an intelligence branch, with headquarters at Ningpo, to which point all reports on traitorous merchants will be submitted for judgment.

Police Watchful.
European Police have taken a hand in this game of terrorism in Shanghai. Like the Chinese police, they are watching the activities of the Bloody Group with the utmost care, fearing that Communists are likely to attempt to exploit the situation.

The authorities have not shut their eyes to the possibility of reproduction of the sinister evils of nihilism, such as that spread across Russia during the days of the Czarist regime.

DOLLAR DECLINES TO 1/4.

Silver Prices
Fall 1-8.

Continuing its decline, the local dollar dropped to 1/4 this morning, after being quoted at 1/4 yesterday.

A slight drop in spot and forward silver is also reported in to-day's quotations, the former falling 1/16 to 18 1/2 and the latter showing a similar drop to 18 1/2.

The London and New York exchange rates are quoted this morning at £-40 1/2 and $-48 1/2, against yesterday's quotations of £-40 1/2 and $-48 1/2.

Ma Reports Further Victories

Peking, To-day.

The volunteers who yesterday started a drive against Harbin are now only twenty-five miles from the city, having already occupied Shangchenpao and Ancheng, according to the Chinese Press.

A critical situation has arisen in Kirin City, where martial law has been proclaimed by the Manchukuo Garrison Commander, as volunteers are rapidly approaching.

A telegram from General Ma Chan-shan reports future victories over the Japanese and Manchukuo Troops. General Ma states that his forces, co-operating with the Heilungkiang volunteers, have occupied Chingchen and are now advancing towards Suihua. — Reuter.

China's Warning to League of Japan Ambitions

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, To-day.
The Committee for the Upholding of the Covenant of the League of Nations has telegraphed from here to Geneva, warning authorities there of the possibility of a world-wide war, if Japan's ambitions in Manchuria are not checked. The Committee states that Japan's recent actions in Manchuria are a direct challenge to the League of Nations and that if the League fails to take effective measures to check Japan's ambitions, the world will be plunged into a world-wide war.

CHINESE "TRAITOR" SHOP BOMBED.—The Asia Book Store, at the corner of Tiendong and North Szechuen Roads, was a scene of a bomb outrage when an explosive was hurled by a member of the Bloody Group for the Extermination of Traitors into the shop, causing damage and wounding one employee.

DANGER OF GERMAN REVOLT AVERTED

VON PAPEN SUBDUES NAZIS'
DEFIANCE

NEW ELECTION NECESSARY.

GERMANY HAS PASSED THROUGH ANOTHER CRISIS, ONE OF THE MOST THREATENING IN ALL HER RECENT TURBULENT HISTORY. THE DEFIANCE OF THE ORDER FOR THE DISSOLUTION OF THE REICHS TAG PROCLAIMED BY THE NAZI SPEAKER, HERR GOERING, HAS BEEN SUBDUED BY THE POINTED REPLY FROM CHANCELLOR VON PAPEN THAT ANY ATTEMPT TO REASSEMBLE THE HOUSE WOULD BE PREVENTED BY ARMED FORCE.

The Reichstag was dissolved when a Socialist motion of non-confidence was introduced, and the Opposition sought to vote for the abolition of the presidential emergency decrees.

A new election is necessary. It will be fought on the most momentous issues which the electorate has ever faced. Herr Von Papen has not yet suggested the date for the appeal to the people, but will presently suggest one to the President. Meanwhile, he is watching political developments.

Nazis' Challenge.

Berlin, To-day.

Is the Reichstag legally dissolved? This is a fiercely debated question, fraught with very serious consequences, as the Nazis moned the House to reassemble to-morrow, while the Government is reported to be determined to prevent any meeting by force of arms if necessary.

Peaceable citizens are praying that wise counsels shall prevail to prevent any serious clash and pin hopes upon the German tradition that "rebellions will not occur as long as rebellions are 'verboten.'"

Von Papen's Answer.

The Nazi Speaker of the House, Herr Goering has decided to call off to-morrow's sitting of the Reichstag which he summoned in deliberate opposition to the Government order of dissolution. This decision was a result of a letter from Chancellor Von Papen to Goering, stating that Goering's refusal to give the Chancellor the

GANDHI ON DEATH FAST

To Check Communal Plan.

BRITAIN WILL NOT CHANGE
FIXED POLICY

Precautions Taken to Prevent Disorders.

London, To-day.

Mahatma Gandhi, India's non-Co-operationist chief, has decided to "fast unto death" commencing from September 20, as a protest against the British Government's solution of the depressed classes' problem in the recent Communal Decision, which, he maintains, is not remedy for their crushing degradation. His decision was announced in correspondence with Premier MacDonald and Sir Samuel Hoare in the course of which the Premier expresses his regret at Gandhi's decision and says the Government's decision must stand. He points out it was reached as a means of safeguarding the depressed classes' rights and interests.

Gandhi wrote to the Premier, stating: "I have to resist your decision with my life, by declaring a perpetual fast unto death from all food, save water, with or without soda or salt." He added his fast would begin on September 20 but would cease if the Government withdrew its Communal Electorates plan for the depressed classes.

Premier MacDonald replied suggesting that Gandhi might wish to reconsider his decision, in view of a possible misunderstanding. Gandhi answered on September 9 that he was compelled reluctantly to adhere to his decision. — Reuter.

FRANCE REPLIES TO GERMAN NOTE ON ARMAMENT

Arms Conference Cannot Supersede Treaty.

REDUCTIONS DESIRED

Germany Warned Attitude
Threatens Progress

Paris, To-day.

Refusal to agree with the German contention that any convention reached by the Disarmament Conference could in any way supersede the provisions of the Peace Treaty, is the main point of the French reply to the German demand for equality of armaments.

The note also debuts Germany's anticipation of insufficiency on the part of the Disarmament Conference. It declares France has cordially co-operated in such Conference and has effected reduction of military expenditure by 1,600,000,000 francs.

The note also emphasises the French desire, based on article Eight of the League Covenant, requiring the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety.

Big Price For Rare Art

Elizabethan Pieces
Sell For $1,100.

The axiom that really rare treasures will always fetch their price at auction was again demonstrated at Sotheby's when an early Elizabethan cup and cover sold for $1,100. The bowl is Chinese porcelain of the Ming dynasty; in those days porcelain was rare in Western Europe, and in accordance with the usual custom, this bowl was mounted with a silver rim and foot and topped with an elaborate cover all bearing the hall mark of 1569.

It is believed to have descended always in the Lennard family, of Wickham Court in Kent, from which it was sent to be sold. After a keen contest, it was bought by Sir Percival David, who lives at Henley and has a noted collection of Chinese porcelain.

In the centenary year of Lewis Carroll, there is an enormous demand for "Alice" relics. The original "Alice" of the "Wonderland" and "Looking-glass" was Mrs. Alice Pleasance Hargreaves, and this week a set of 10 photographs of her and her sisters, taken by Lewis Carroll himself, were bought at auction in London by the Rosenbach brothers, of New York for $125.

However, some letters exchanged between Lewis Carroll and "Alice," in one of which he wrote—
"My mental picture is as vivid as ever, of one who was, through so many years, my ideal child friend remains in England at the price of $230.

ONE DRESS DOES TRIPLE DUTY.

Foundation Frock Is Simple.

For those who like many changes in dress without over-stocking the wardrobe, an excellent idea can be carried out which will make one dress do the duty of three.

The frock used as a foundation may be an extremely simple affair of soft gray triple sheer. With an unusual neckline and a bright flower it can be worn in its original will transform the gown into quite state, and will look very smart.

The addition of a bertha of pink triple sheer, with a huge white flower at the front of the neckline will transform the gown into quite another story. The bertha should tie in a bow at the back and should be outlined with a soft ruffle of self material.

Garlands of flowers around each arm hole will make a change of picture, the flowers used to be bright oranges, and yellows and massed together to give bulk.

For informal affairs a bright orange red organdie jacket with high neck line and short perky sleeves will look well.

The trick of using a number of accessories to give different appearances to one dress is an exceedingly popular one just now. It is invaluable for the girl who has had to cut down her clothing budget, and, if you select the right dress and the right accessories, it really lets you cut just as smart a dash as if you had a whole closet full of frocks of widely contrasting styles and colours.

"HOUSES."

By Elizabeth Fleming.

I don't like perfect houses,

So tidy, so forlorn!

Where chairs are never shabby

And carpets never worn;

And where from hall to attic

Of dust there's not a trace.

But everything stays neatly

In its appointed place.

I like a house that's happy,

A home for books and toys,

Now still with peace and quiet,

Now stirred with fun and noise;

While even on the doorstep

'Are hollows in the stone

To show the folks that live there

Are never long alive.

WOMAN'S THRIFT AND LOGIC.

This is a story of thrift as practised by a woman who counts the cost of her correspondence.

At the window of the Post Office, she appeared in New York three cent postage for letter mail.

"What can I do for you?" inquired a clerk.

"Here's $10," said he, proffering the currency, "I want that many two cent stamps before the prices goes up."—Reuter.

RESTFUL BEDROOM

You pass so much of your time each day in your bedroom that it should be a really restful looking room. Choose quiet soothing colours, greens are so charming for bedrooms in this country, and the walls might be a pale green too.

Don't have all your things lying about, it always makes a bedroom appear so jaded and stale looking, to see discarded clothing on chairs etc. Instead of having the dressing table loaded with the make-up preparations, manicure necessities and too many brushes and combs, etc., why not have a small cupboard in a corner, or even two, one to hold medicines and the other for cosmetics etc.

You will keep everything much cleaner by putting it away and the 'Boy' will have less dusting to do each day.

MENU SUGGESTIONS FOR TO-MORROW.

Breakfast: Orange juice, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Lunch: Stuffed eggs with beet greens, rye bread and peanut butter sandwiches, cherry shortcake, milk, tea.

Dinner: Beef loaf with browned pears, parsley potatoes, creamed cauliflower, radishes and green onions, pine-apple tapioca, milk, coffee.

NO REASON FOR BAKING TO BE BAD.

Modern inventions have made an exact science of baking and there is little reason for failure when a delicate custard or a pan of biscuits is to be baked. Every stove manufacturer realises the importance of dependable oven structure and builds his range on scientific principles.

It is almost impossible to maintain consistent results in baking without the use of an oven thermometer of some sort.

A knowledge of the heat requirements demanded in the cooking of each type of food produce is, of course, essential.

Perhaps bread offers the most difficult problem for many women. Bread is baked to check the growth of the yeast plant, to cook the starch in the grain and to diffuse the alcohol formed by the fermentation. To accomplish all this, the baking must be very thorough. Intense heat is needed to check effectively the growth of the yeast plant and a long period of oven heat is required to cook thoroughly the starch and overcome fermentation. Consequently, the "hot" oven of 400 degrees Fahrenheit is advised for the first 10 minutes, and then gradual reduction of heat until the thermometer registers 300 degrees for the remaining baking period.

Economy Of The Cracker

The cracker is always ready and will keep in good condition almost indefinitely. Naturally, certain varieties keep better than others, but there is little danger of actual molding and spoiling and a short sojourn in a moderate oven will restore the desired crispness.

There is no waste, for the broken odds and ends can be used to the last crumb; those from the unsweetened varieties like soda, milk and butter being especially suited for savory meat and vegetable puddings and other desserts. Either kind of cracker-crumbs are excellent for thickening fresh fruit pies.

Soda cracker crumbs are excellent for thickening soups and chowders. Use 1 tablespoon fine crumbs to a cup of liquid, sprinkling in the crumbs a few minutes before the dish is done. A little time must be allowed for the crumbs to expand and thicken the liquid properly.

SILK DRESSES OF SUGAR WASTE

Rayon's New Source In America.

Washington. Sugar cane waste has been turned by the U.S. Department of Agriculture into a new source of rayon—a silky dress material for the womenfolk.

Government chemists succeeded in developing a process by which high-grade cellulose, base material for rayon, is produced from bagasse, the waste from sugar cane after the sugar has been extracted.

The discovery is regarded as important, as most rayon manufacturers depend upon wood pulp for cellulose and the American forests and wood supplies are gradually diminishing.

Sugar cane mills accumulate between 250,000 and 600,000 tons of bagasse annually. Much of this material has been used in manufacturing insulating building material. Other quantities have been used as fuel in the mills.—Reuter.

This looks like a sensible move and will still further stimulate the exportation of air express, which is about 200 per cent over a period of last year. The field is the flying of goods which demand special speed in transit. It is one of the airlines will bring down rates as the volume of business warrants, as they do now in the case of passengers. There should be a bright future for it in air express.

The Scourge of the East.

Malaria has always been, and probably will be for many years to come, the scourge of those who live in the East. The most distressing feature in the obstinate way in which it remains in the system after attacks have subsided, leaving the sufferer weak and depressed.

After a malarial attack, treatment should be undertaken to free the system from the germs that remain and which have become temporarily dormant. This is essential if recurrence is to be prevented.

In order to accomplish this the blood-stream which has become depleted and thin should be built up anew, made rich and pure in order to enable it to destroy the parasites within itself.

For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the world-famous blood and nerve tonic pills, have proved remarkably efficacious in countless cases. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills comprise a British physician's prescription and, by a process of oxygenization, increase, enrich and purify the blood-stream. In hot countries everywhere they are the ideal tonic for sufferers from malarial and other recurring fevers. All chemists and medicine dealers can supply you. Refuse substitutes.

"THIS IS THE NIGHT"—KING'S THEATRE.

Throughout a story of complex situations, tinged with romance, Charles Ruggles and Roland Young, the two driest comedians on the screen, kept crowded houses in spasms of laughter at the King's Theatre yesterday, when "This is the Night" commenced its five day run.

Underneath the humour of theme, there runs a strong streak of sentiment, and the combination has produced a film far above the average. The greater part of the plot is in the beautiful setting of Venice, where Young, as the man about town, has landed, owing to complication following on his attentions to the wife of a champion javelin thrower. With his so-called wife whom he adopts to ally suspicions of the athlete, he finds his troubles only just commencing, and the presence of Ruggles does much to aggravate his predicament.

It is the funniest film seen in the Colony for a considerable time, and is one that should not be missed.

MAIL REVIEW

"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

If anyone has a doubt that Jackie Cooper can act and interpret a role assigned to him with as much perfection and naturalness as any of his bigger colleagues, he should see "When a Feller Needs a Friend," which opened at the Queen's Theatre yesterday. The entire film is made for Jackie, and he carries it off admirably. It is not merely the story and action that count, but the boyish attitude and spirit which pervade the picture.

Jackie Cooper is so convincing that he brings tears into the eyes of the onlooker, and the next moment he makes them smile again, for he pictures tragedy with as much perfection as happiness.

Charles "Chic" Sale, as the jolly and sympathetic uncle, and Jackie as the little cripple, are an inseparable pair.

Excellent direction is executed with great care not only for settings, but especially for good, fast dialogue and naturalness of action; all of which gives it an effect of spontaneity and charm.

"FRANKENSTEIN"—GARDEN THEATRE.

The thrill-seeker, if he is wise, will not let this opportunity of seeing Universal's "Frankenstein" even for a second time at the Garden Theatre.

Boris Karloff does splendid work as the monster-made-man, while credit is also due Colin Clive as the mad professor, John Boles, Mae Clarke and Frederick Kerr also appear.

More thrilling than "Dracula"!

MAIL REVIEW

"ONE HOUR WITH YOU"—TAIPIING THEATRE.

"One Hour With You" the latest Lubitch—Chevalier—MacDonald musical comedy-romance will entertain many at the Tai Ping Theatre, where it is having a second release.

Maurice Chevalier is excellent, not to say the least of the spicy humour derived from Roland Young and Charlie Ruggles.

MAIL REVIEW

"DEVOTION"—CENTRAL THEATRE.

Ann Harding, star of "East Lynne" and "Condemned," in RKO's masterful production "Devotion" now showing at the Central Theatre, has a role that is worthy of her talents. Leslie Howard has the romantic male lead.

It is a whimsical story of a young English girl, who believes everything fair in love. Intermingled with sweet romance in admirable, tasteful settings, there is an essence of comedy. Miss Harding accomplishes a dual role with excellent acting.

Robert Williams, Allison Skipworth, Doris Lloyd, Louise Chester, Hale, O. P. Heggie and the juvenile Douglas Scott, render capable support to the leading players.

Well worth seeing.

"STEPPING OUT"—STAR THEATRE.

A good laugh is in store for those who see Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Stepping Out" which attracted full houses at the Star Theatre yesterday.

Charlotte Greenwood, Reginald Denny, Leila Hyams, Lillian Bond, Harry Stubbs and Cliff Edwards are cast in this entertaining film, which tells of erring husbands. Miss Greenwood is screamingly funny. Thoroughly recommended!

MAIL REVIEW

"THE FALSE MADONNA"—ORIENTAL THEATRE.

The story of a counterfeit lady—deception her business, beauty her social passport—is revealed magnificently in "The False Madonna" starring Kay Francis and William Boyd, which opened at the Oriental Theatre to-day.

Based on a story by May Edington, the film becomes intensely absorbing, through the clever directorial work of Stuart Walker, and the splendid acting of Miss Francis Boyd, Conway Tearle (a silent day favourite) and John Breeden. Marjorie Gateson and Charles D. Brown supply the mirth as crook partners.

"The False Madonna" is strong in both emotion and drama, and a film that should be seen.

MAIL REVIEW

"24 HOURS"—MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"24 Hours" now showing at the Majestic Theatre reveals how husbands, wives and lovers are abruptly brought to their senses, amid glamorous big city settings, when the survivors of a vicious social circle are incriminated for the death of one of their lot.

The cast includes Clive Brook, Kay Francis, Miriam Hopkins and Regis Toomey all in featured roles.

OFFICIAL SOURCES.

"NIGHT COURT"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

If you like your screen fare red-blooded and juicy in drama, you'll have a robust appetite for "Night Court" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's newest offering which is showing on Wednesday at the Queen's Theatre. Here is a daring picture, presented in a striking manner, splendid in entertainment values.

Directed by W. S. Van Dyke from an original story by Mark Hellinger and Charles Beahan, the film takes as its premise the situation of an unscrupulous man, occupying the bench of a magistrate and using his court power to further the criminal activities in which he is involved.

Walter Huston, Phillips Holmes, Anita Page, and John Miljan all give excellent portrayals.

"MAN OF MAYFAIR"—KING'S THEATRE.

A splendid array of stage and the latest Paramount British Production, "Man Of Mayfair," which will be shown at the King's Theatre starting on Sunday.

dancer leads him into some delightfully humorous situations, and Joan Barry is his leading lady, Nora Swindburne, heroine of "These Charming People," Warwick Ward, one of our finest screen actors; Ellaline Terriss and Lillian Braithwaite, both stage and screen celebrities; Cyril Raymond, Sebastian Smith, Charles Quartermaine, and J. Fisher White complete the brilliant cast.

"CARELESS LADY"—KING'S THEATRE.

Hollywood is revealing a few of her disappointments to Welch Helburn, one of the newest Fox Films players.

In making "Careless Lady," the Fox Films comedy to be shown at the King's Theatre next Thursday, the script called for Helburn, in his role as the New England golf champion, to win a hard-fought title match by sinking a long stymied putt at the last hole.

A professional golfer was employed to make the putt for the young actor, but found the pin very elusive in several consecutive putts.

Joan Bennett and John Boles have the leading roles in "Careless Lady" which deals with the adventures of a repressed New England girl who starts out to get experience and seductiveness after she finds the local swains unresponsive to her charms.

Guy Bolton wrote the screen play and dialogue from the original story by Reita Lambert.

"DEVOTION"—CENTRAL THEATRE.

The Central Theatre are now showing Ann Harding's new RKO Pathe production, "Devotion," her first starring vehicle of the new season, made from Pamela Wynne's well-known novel, "A Little Flat in the Temple."

It is a new type of picture for Miss Harding in which she plays a double role one as her charming self, and the other a dowdy, middle-aged governess.

A cast of extraordinary proportions has been assembled about this always dependable star. Leslie Howard plays the masculine lead, and in lesser roles are such fine character players as O. P. Heggie, Robert Williams, Dudley Digges, Louis Gossett Hale, Allison Skipworth, Tempe Pigott, little Douglas Scott, and many others. Robert Milton directed.

Republican Germany.

Formal observance of the thirteenth birthday of the German Republic was not a joyful occasion. One report speaks of the scene in the Reichstag chamber as a funeral rather than a holiday. The friends of the republic absented themselves. The official rites were performed by a Government that is supposed to be anti-republican at heart. The comments on the Weimar Constitution were chiefly confined to showing how defective an instrument it is. If one adds the uncertainties and anxieties connected with the name of Hitler, it is undeniable that these are not very cheerful days for the democratic cause in Germany. Yet people speak as if the recent election had produced an overwhelming majority against the republic. The fact is that the opponents of the republican regime are still in a minority of several million votes, if one counts the entire Right strength, and represent only a little more than one-third of the population. If one speaks only of Hitler, that the German Republic will be swept out of existence without anybody daring to say nay is contrary to all the indications. The question of Hitler's admission to a share in the government—not to sole control—is being made conditional on his pledging loyalty to the established constitutional system. This is what Herr Brüning demands before he will consent to co-operate with Hitler, and it is what the Reichstag demands in return for its support. The republic in Germany is much stronger than it was in France in 1870-76. But among its opponents the "Legitimists"—that is to say, the "Junker crowd"—must be far from anxious to see Hitler make himself the Mussolini of Germany.

CONDUCT ON A BUS.

[The Editor, "China Mail."]
Sir,—While riding on a bus today something happened which could hardly escape my notice, nor any decent person's, for that matter. It concerned an Englishman who has evidently lost all claims of decency from the knights of King Arthur, and who is a supreme example of MODERN civilization—a civilization of grab and keep. It was during tiffin hour and the bus was packed with business men, school children and people of all descriptions. The bus slowed down and the person in question jumped on. At the same moment a Chinese got up and was presumably on the point of offering the seat to the school children and ladies, when the Englishman, thinking that the Chinese was getting off, rushed at and took the seat (perhaps to steal a march on his fearful foe). He then, smoked this pipe in the perfect calm and serenity of a well-won battle. The "gentleman's" manners would require some overhauling if the seat had been genuinely offered and accepted in the face of the weaker sex. Under the present circumstances I am at a loss to describe him. If I had known the "gentleman" personally, I would have given him a piece of my mind gratis, but now I must leave him to the pricks of his own conscience, if he has one.

"THE CHINESE DRAGON."

Some Impressions Of East And West Dr. Mistowski On Music In Japan

MODERN "DEGENERARY"

Dr. Alfred Mistowski, the Trinity College of Music's visiting examiner, left Ceylon on August 14, after six weeks' hard work. He is due in Malaya to conduct examinations, and will pass through Colombo again later in the year, on his way to Bombay. He expects to be in England by Christmas.

He has been connected with his work for about three decades now and has visited nearly every country on the globe. He has had much experience in the East, especially India, and his views on the musical development (from the Western standpoint) of the East may, therefore, be considered authoritative.

What has impressed him in recent years in India is the emergence of the Muslim woman. "One notices that Muslim girls are taking examinations now, and considering that they have rather held back till now, it is very gratifying," he said.

No Purdah Difficulties.
"This has been the case for some time in India," he observed, "and I have had quite a number of girls in Hyderabad, at a school for daughters of high officials. There has never been any difficulty over purdah as special exceptions are made in favour of such people as school inspectors and examiners, but on one or two occasions purdah was observed without the slightest inconvenience."

The emancipation of women has gone on much faster in Egypt than in India, Dr. Mistowski said. "Purdah is almost dying out and you see Muslim ladies at concerts and at the opera with only a make-believe veil. I had many such ladies as candidates to be examined."

Coming to the question of talent among pupils, Dr. Mistowski remarked, "In India and Ceylon I have come across remarkable talent and distinguished pupils. I am especially glad to say that there is ample evidence of good teaching in this country."

Japan's Refugee Artists.
"I was in Japan and China last year, and was most interested to find the state of music unusually advanced, especially in Japan. The explanation for this is that the State takes an interest in the subject. There is a very good State conservatorium in Tokyo, with European teachers at the head. There is also a big school with about 80 Japanese professors, all of whom have had training in Europe and America. They have 800 pupils in their charge."

"Russian" Influence.
"Russia is very prominent, and it goes back as far as 1904, during the Russo-Japanese War. This influence has become intense since the Revolution, because of the number of refugee artists domiciled there."

"A remarkable thing is," he continued, "that once they have mastered our scales, the Japanese and Chinese go ahead fast. They have too, a lot of temperament."

Commenting on the state of music in the Near East, Dr. Mistowski remarked: "Here I have found splendid talent among the Jews and Armenians, especially in Jerusalem, where Sir Ronald Storrs founded a school of music. He did the same in Cyprus. Talent I noticed in Alexandria and Cairo too."

"In Cairo I was much interested to come across a piece of music printed from right to left, in order to conform to the Arabic text—little awkward to read at first. I took a copy home to the College, and we examiners had a competition for reading backwards!"

"In Turkey now there is no need for this, as they have adopted the Roman alphabet."

And The Converse.
"There are a few of my impressions of western music and examiners. Now let us consider the converse—eastern music and westerners."

Speaking of myself, I must say that I have found the music of the East to be very different from the music of the West.

adaptable to any system. They have a peculiar way of holding the instrument: sitting on the floor, they hold the violin against the body and the big toe! I've often been impressed with the very clever left-hand technique and accurate sense of intonation. As for the bowing, it is rather rudimentary, because it is held in an awkward way. But it still serves its purpose well.

"Music in the East has followed a line of melodic development exclusively. But in Europe, starting from melodic lines, our music has evolved on harmonic lines, with increasing complexity, until nowadays it represents several melodic lines woven into a complex harmonic texture."

Modern "Dissonance."
"Indian music has, therefore, its limitations as it has never shown any tendency in the direction of harmony. Indeed, its melodic characteristics are antagonistic to harmonic evolution."

Dr. Mistowski holds decided views on the (Western) music of to-day, views that would class him with the rigid conservatives. He has nothing in common with the futurists, dislikes the deliberate "exaggerations" and "dissonances" of the so-called modernists. Even the dance music of to-day is degenerate, in his opinion.

"The Western music of to-day," he insisted, "has reached a point where it seems that the physical endurance of the ear has reached its limit."

"Exaggeration seems to be rather the tendency of the present-day 'modernists' in their excessive love of dissonance, which makes much of to-day's music restless and fatiguing to the listener. It seems to reflect the unsettled state of the world in general."

Shock Tactics.
"During the last 25 years in Europe Art has been evolving on strange lines; expression or self-expression (blessed word!) seems to be the aim more than abstract beauty, and what music has gained in colour and expression it has certainly lost in purity and sense of proportion."

"Under guise of originality there is a tendency on the part of many young composers to stun, and even shock people—conservatives, I mean. The same tendency, you notice, is found in the recent development of sculpture—take Epstein, for instance."

"Now too, there is what I might call the Jazz poison and a general degeneracy of dance music. I cannot but regret the passing of the beautiful dance music of the past generation, those charming waltzes which in themselves were so pleasant to listen to, music of such men as Johann Strauss, Gungl, Waldteufel."

DINNER-FEATURE AT PENINSULA.

New Programme Of Dancers.

FAMOUS ARTISTES.

Featuring an entire change of their programme routine, the two famous "Russian" dancers, Miss Tania Svetlanova and Mr. Alex. Sainikov are delighting audiences nightly at the Peninsula Hotel Roof Garden.

The artistes, who perform during the dinner dance from 9 p.m. until midnight, have three new numbers which include "Fantastic Oriental," "Boloro Espagnol" and "Kitty Dance." These numbers were shown for the first time last Saturday night, to the admiration of a large group of people present in the dining room.

Another complete change is promised for the following week, to commence next Saturday.

MANCHUKUO TROOPS RISE IN REVOLT

Japanese Officers Put To Death.

FIGHTING IN SHENGYANG

Reports through the Chinese Kuo Min News Agency declare that 1,000 men of the Manchukuo garrison units under Yu Chih-shan revolted at Peitaiyang in Shenyang (Mukden) on the night of September 4. After killing one Japanese supervisor and a dozen Japanese staff officers, they occupied the radio station and began an assault on the Arsenal.

On learning the alarming news, Japanese troops, assisted by 20 tanks, sent from the South Manchurian Railway zone to the Arsenal to fight the attackers. Due to lack of ammunition and reinforcements, the insurgents withdrew to Kuchiatse and Shenchintse where they established contact with the Volunteers at Tsinchichai.

It is learnt that the Volunteers will launch a joint attack on Shenyang (Mukden) before the Japanese Government formally recognises the puppet Manchukuo government. Volunteers are active along the Shenyang-Hailung Railway, meanwhile.

Jehol Concentration.

The 4th Route Army of the Chinese Volunteers under Keng Chi-chou twice defeated the Japanese at Lienshan and Kaohsiao stations, on the so-called Mukden-Shanghai Railway, last week. Both times the Volunteers had to retreat on the arrival of Japanese reinforcements. In the second engagement alone, the Chinese killed more than 70 Japanese soldiers and captured 4 machine-guns, three cannons and 50 rifles. The casualties on the Chinese side were 27 dead.

Volunteers under Chu I-min, consisting of 20,000 infantry and cavalry units, stationed at Chitaliansiang, Lihohsiang and Heihohsiang, in southern Jehol near the Jehol-Hopei border, are now advancing to Chaoyang for concentration. Another large unit of 10,000 under Chou Chuan-fang has gathered in the vicinity of Peichen, Erhtoukou and Taitan in readiness to attack Peichen and Hsien, western Liaoning. They are to effect junction with the Volunteers under Chu I-min in checking any attempt of the Japanese to advance into Jehol.—Kuo Min.

SUNBATHERS BAR RECTOR.

Not Allowed To Join
Without His Wife.

Harrogate, August 20.—The rector of Stiffkey, the Rev. Harold Davidson, was refused membership of the Sunbathing Society when he called at their holiday headquarters here to-day.

Mr. Davidson arrived at Harrogate last evening for the first performance of his twice-nightly entertainment at a local music-hall. This morning, when most of the 150 sunbathers were in the enclosed open-air swimming pool, the rector, in a dark suit and clerical collar, arrived by motor-car and walked towards a party of sunbathers who were playing medicine ball in the field where the swimming pool is situated.

He was, however, approached by a member of the party, who requested him to leave the field and obtain permission to inspect the grounds from the secretary or one of the other officials.

There was an interview lasting nearly half an hour between Mr. Davidson and an official, who finally escorted him from the grounds.

Rectory Plans.

Mr. Davidson told me afterwards that he had called with the intention of becoming a temporary member of the society for the week he is staying at Harrogate.

"I wanted to inspect the circumstances of the movement," he said, "because I considered that I might establish a similar type of thing among my parishioners at Stiffkey, using the rectory grounds as an exercise place."

"My application to become a temporary member for sunbathing was refused because I could not fulfil the conditions."

Apparently it is necessary for a temporary member to have his wife with him, or be able to satisfy the committee that the grounds are suitable for sunbathing.

GANDHI'S DEATH FAST

Government Proposals.

London, To-day.

The threat by Mr. Gandhi to fast unto death as a protest against the British Government's Communal Settlement plan, is made in correspondence released to-day.

The feature of the Government's proposals which has led Gandhi to adopt this course, is a special electoral treatment provided for the depressed classes, who, although within the Hindu system, are "untouchable." For all other Hindus they cast pollution by touch and defile food and water.

Taking Precautions.

Simla, To-day.

Gandhi will probably be released from custody on September 20, according to Assembly lobby circles, immediately after starting his fast. He will be taken to Sabhamati Ashram, his retreat in the suburb of Ahmedabad.

The Government is taking precautionary measures to meet any untoward developments. Gandhi is expected to survive his fast for a month.

Popular reaction to the situation will be shown to-morrow when the Nationalist Opposition Party is likely to move an adjournment to discuss the situation. It is recalled that Gandhi's previous 21-day fast, during Lord Reading's term as Viceroy, led to the convening of an All-Party Conference. It is expected similar movements will be undertaken on this occasion to secure mutual agreement to save Gandhi's life.—Reuter.

The Simon report said, "Their state is indeed pitiable, just living on the edge of starvation and unaware of any force of improving their lot."

The Government's decision sought to place these depressed classes in a position to speak for themselves through a certain number of members of their own choosing in legislatures of seven out of nine provinces; but in order to preserve the unity of the Hindu society, the decision did not deprive them of their vote in the general Hindu constituencies.

The decision had not, however, been published on March 11, the date of Gandhi's first letter to Sir Samuel Hoare. In it Gandhi says his statement at the Round Table Conference that he would resist with his life the granting of a separate electorate to the depressed classes, was meant to be a serious statement. "I hold that a separate electorate is harmful for them and for Hinduism, whatever it may be from a purely political standpoint," he says. "To appreciate the harm that separate electorates would do to them one has to know how they are distributed amongst the so-called caste Hindus and how dependent they are on the latter. So far as Hinduism is concerned, a separate electorate would simply vivisection and disrupt it. For me, the question of these classes is predominantly moral and religious. I therefore respectfully inform His Majesty's Government that in the event of their decision creating a separate electorate for the depressed classes I must fast unto death."

"So far as I can see now my discharge from imprisonment would not make the duty of fasting any less imperative."

Replying on April 18 Sir Samuel Hoare said he realised fully the strength of Gandhi's feeling upon the question of separate electorates and promised it would be taken into account before the Government decision was given.

Dealers Himself.

A further letter from Gandhi to the Prime Minister, whom he addressed as "Dear friend," written on August 18, after the Government's decision had been announced, says: "I have to resist your decision with my life. The only way I can do so is by declaring a perpetual fast unto death from food of any kind, save water with or without salt and soda. This fast will cease if, during its progress, the British Government of its own motion or under pressure of public opinion, revise their decision and withdraw their scheme of communal electorates for the depressed classes."

course from September 20, next, unless the said decision is meanwhile revised. I ask that this letter and my letter to Sir Samuel Hoare be published. I want public opinion to be affected by my letters. Hence my request for their early publication.

"I regret the decision I have taken. But as a man of religion I have no other course left open to me."

The Prime Minister, in reply, cabled on September 8, "expresses sincere regret at Gandhi's letter and proceeds: 'I cannot help thinking you have written it under a misunderstanding as to what the decision of His Majesty's Government as regards the depressed classes really implies. We have always understood that you were irrevocably opposed to permanent segregation of the depressed classes from the Hindu community. I also knew your view this shared by a great body of Hindu opinion, and we therefore took it into most careful account when we were considering the question of the representation of depressed classes.'"

"Whilst, in view of the numerous appeals which have been received from the depressed classes' organisations and the generally admitted social disabilities under which they labour and which you have often recognised, and while we felt it our duty to safeguard what we believed to be right of the depressed classes to fair proportion of representation in legislatures, we were equally careful to do nothing that would split off their community from the Hindu world. You yourself stated in your letter of March 11 that you were not against their representation in legislatures. Under the Government's scheme the depressed classes will remain a part of the Hindu community and will vote with the Hindu electorate on an equal footing, but for the first 20 years, while still remaining electorally a part of the Hindu community, they will receive through a limited number of special constituencies, the means of safeguarding their rights and interests that we are convinced is necessary under the present conditions."

"Where these constituencies are created, members of the depressed classes will not be deprived of their vote in general Hindu constituencies but will have two votes in order that their membership of the Hindu community should remain unimpaired. We deliberately decided against the creation of what you describe as a communal electorate for the depressed classes."—British Wireless Service.

SUICIDE'S CHARGES "GROUNDLESS."

Jury Finding During Inquest Hearing

A verdict of "suicide while of unsound mind" was returned by a jury, consisting of Messrs. J. R. Brouwer, (foreman) E. M. H. Castro and Fung Yue-chung when they concluded the inquiry into the death of a former Russian Police officer, D. V. Mikhailovsky, before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's court yesterday afternoon.

The Russian officer was found dead in bed in his quarters, old No. 7 Police Station, a comrade's rifle held between his legs and a terrible wound in his head.

Allegations of inconsiderate treatment by superior officers, contained in a letter left by the deceased, were found to be "groundless."

Effort To Save Life Loses Race.

SIR HENRY BIRKIN WINS.

In half-a-gale Britain's two finest track drivers, Sir Henry Birkin and Mr. John Cobb, fought out the most thrilling speed duel that has ever been witnessed at Brooklands.

It was a battle of nations, Britain represented by Birkin and the big super-charged Bentley against Cobb and the 12-cylinder French Delage.

A flash of lightning and a roar of thunder heralded the start. The big silver Delage drew away from the long, sleek red car. Within ten seconds Cobb was on the banking at 120 m.p.h., the Bentley 100 yards behind.

For the first 2½ miles Cobb averaged 112 m.p.h. At the end of the second lap Birkin had reduced the gap to 12.5 sec.

Then in the final lap Cobb took the bend at the fork with the wind behind him at 148 m.p.h., shot up on the banking, and skidded.

Cobb struggled with the wheel right on the edge of the banking, and fought it into control.

But that titanic struggle for his life cost Cobb the race. Birkin's last lap had been at an average speed of 137.3 miles an hour, half a mile an hour less than his record.

Cobb shot off the banking at a good 150 m.p.h., looked over his shoulder, saw the red car on his tail and sportingly pulled down to give Birkin room to pass if he could.

So the two racers dashed down towards the finishing line, "flat out," side by side. The red car had crossed the line one-fifth of a second before the silver racer, at an average speed of 125.14 m.p.h.

CHAPMAN'S WAGER WITH LYON

Ten thousand people cheering themselves hoarse at the sight of Country cricketers scoring more than 400 runs in two hours. Batsmen running from the pavilion to the wickets; Fieldsmen going "at the double" between overs.

That was the incredible scene on the country ground at Canterbury. This is how this Very Much Brighter Cricket came about:

DID ERNEST TYLDESLEY REFUSE M.C.C. INVITATION?

Lancashire Batsman's Place Taken by Team-Mate

Much speculation was caused in home cricket circles by the fact that Ernest Tyldesley was called to the pavilion during the recent Lancashire and Gloucestershire match and was asked whether he would be prepared to go to Australia if invited, thus adding to the rumours that a 17th man might be taken in view of Duleepsinhji's illness.

The inference is that Tyldesley declined the invitation, as it has since been announced that Paynter, the Lancashire left hander, has accepted an invitation to take K. S. Duleepsinhji's place.

When Gloucestershire had beaten Kent by nine wickets at 4.15 one afternoon, Percy Chapman, the Kent captain, said to B. H. Lyon, the Gloucestershire captain, "What about this time limit idea of yours? Let's give these people a show."

A WAGER STRUCK.

B. H. Lyon, who recently wrote a series of striking articles, "Wake up, Cricket," replied, "Only too glad," and there and then a wager was struck that Kent would make more runs in an hour than Gloucestershire.

Gloucestershire went in first and were all out in an hour. In that time they scored 198 runs.

Hammond set the pace. He made 60 in 25 minutes. As each wicket fell the man ran out and another started his sprint from the pavilion rails. The crowd gasped, then laughed, then cheered.

When Kent started batting with Woolley and Watt together every known record was broken.

In four overs (taken in quick time) they scored 50 runs. In ten minutes the score-board showed 70 runs.

Watt went; Ames came in; the pace grew faster and faster.

Woolley, run out with his total 36 in 25 minutes, hit five 6's.

There were six men on the boundary—and he was hitting the ball over their heads.

THE TWENTIETH SIX Ames and Todd and B. H. Valentine carried on the gorgeous spectacle, and when Valentine hit the twentieth 6 of this frantic game Kent had won the match by five wickets with a quarter of an hour to spare.

In 105 minutes county cricketers used, to the stately rhythm of a run a minute, or less, had scored over 400 runs.

If it had not been that the band of the 2nd Bn. East Kents (The Buffs) came to their assistance the crowd would not have been capable of making enough appreciative noise at the finish.

GEORGES CARPENTIER TO ATTEMPT BOXING COMEBACK

To Seek Own Former Middleweight Title in New York

Georges Carpentier, once the idol of boxing enthusiasts the world over, is returning to the ring, according to the Paris Soir quoted by the Central News.

The writer states that his informant—a friend of Carpentier—saw the ex-champion in the United States, where he is acting, and he gave him a formal assurance that he was returning to the fighting arena.

Although he is 38, Carpentier is said to have retained all the accuracy and science that brought him a fortune of £200,000, the world's cruiser-weight title, and the European heavy-weight championship.

According to the informant, he plans to box as a middle-weight, and recover the championship he won by beating Leviniski.

It is believed that he will box in New York this winter.

DAVIS AGAIN GOOD BUT NOT INCLUDED

SIRDAR KHAN GIVEN THE KEY POSITION

NO CHANGE IN FORWARDS

DISAPPOINTING LACK OF INTEREST IN YESTERDAY'S TRIAL AT SOOKUNPOO.

(By Referee.)

THE POSSIBILITY OF THERE BEING NO HOCKEY MATCH BETWEEN A REPRESENTATIVE HONG KONG ELEVEN AND ALL-INDIA, WORLD CHAMPIONS, MIGHT WELL HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LACK OF INTEREST SHOWN IN THE THIRD TRIAL, WHICH WAS STAGED AT SOOKUNPOO YESTERDAY AFTERNOON. WITH THE PROBABLE HONG KONG SIDE ON VIEW IT WAS DISAPPOINTING TO SEE SO FEW HOCKEY ENTHUSIASTS ON THE TOUCH LINE.

THE SELECTORS DID NOT RECEIVE MUCH AID YESTERDAY EXCEPT THAT THE TRIAL PROVED JACK RODGER WORTHY OF HIS PLACE AT FULL BACK, AND THAT SIRDAR KHAN COULD NOT POSSIBLY BE OMITTED. ABBAS ALI, THE JAT - FULL-BACK ALSO ACHIEVED ENOUGH TO DESERVE A PLACE IN THE PROBABLES SIDE FOR TO-MORROW'S GAME.

The game was by no means up to the standard of its predecessor, there being far too much hard hitting without any great effort at combination. The Probables' attack was not seen at its best, though the inside trio were again outstanding. Their understanding, however, was not so clear and several promising movements were spoiled by mishits or bad passes.

G. E. R. Divett has had the misfortune to poison his foot and was consequently unable to take his place on the Probables' right wing, and Habib Khan again received an opportunity to make good. The speedy little Indian was too fast for McLellan and was seen to advantage on several occasions: He sent across one or two beautifully judged centres, and it was from one of these that Gurbachan Singh opened the scoring. Divett, however, has recovered rapidly and is, I understand, taking his place in the Probables' XI to-morrow.

W. A. Reed commenced the game in the key position, but later in the first half he changed with Sirdar Khan. Though possessing amazing versatility, I feel certain that Reed should play in the right half position in preference to centre half. He appears far more at home in the position and is too valuable a player to place in any position. Should the selectors decide to play him on the right flank the key position is going to prove several problems. Steady as E. V. Reed is, he is hardly worth the position, while Davis is essentially a right half back with few pretensions of being a centre half good enough for the occasion. Sirdar Khan and Lt. Crosswell are then left to decide the position, and to the Indian must go the honour, as he possesses more stamina and is one of the coolest players on the field. As regards timing and accurate hitting Crosswell is his equal, but not his master.

ABBAS ALI AGAIN. McLellan, though he played a vastly improved game yesterday, can hardly be considered for the position, as he lacks sufficient ball control and speed. He is indeed unfortunate to find himself pitted against such a formidable opposite number as E. V. Reed, and Davis is in the same position the other flank.

I was most surprised to see that the selectors did not change Abbas Ali over to the Probables' defence at half-time. Of the full backs on view during the last two trials he has been the obvious partner for Rodger. He is a fearless tackler, possesses well above the average speed for a full back coupled with good ball control and accurate hitting.

LT. COMDR. HIGHAM was the more impressive goalkeeper in yesterday's trial. He brought off one brilliant save when Gurbachan Singh had the goal at his mercy from a magnificent centre by Nur Khan. G. Duncan had little to do all the afternoon and played through both halves in the absence of Capt. Gore.

HALWANT SINGH IMPRESSES. Halwant Singh, a centre forward of the Probables, and Halwant Singh, the right wing of the Probables, were the players of the Probables' side.

charged expensive high-powered cars, lavish jewellery, and began to hit the high spots.

Johnson has experienced the gamut of every thrill in life. He is a good performer on the bass violin, can dance and sing.

Yet he was always yearning for pleasure. This had the inevitable result of reducing him to penury. When his fortune had evaporated Johnson tried various methods of making money. He joined partnership with an engineer to sell tools in a building on Broadway. The last time I heard of Johnson, he was the leader of a jazz orchestra. As a master of boxing Johnson was the greatest of all heavy-weight champions. Many American experts rate him as the greatest of all champions, and I do not think there are far wrong.

Pat O'Keefe, who accompanied Tommy Burns to Australia, told me that when the dapper little white man entered the ring he was cheered to the echo. Johnson's entrance was received in absolute silence. When Johnson's chief second, Duke Mullins, said to him: "How do you feel, Jack?" the negro, with his flashing smile, retorted: "Why, I am feeling as sweet as a lemon."

Johnson's lynx eyes noticed that the seconds of Burns were smearing his face with a greasy substance; so Jack walked over to Tommy's corner and casually remarked as if it were just an afterthought: "Say, Tammy, tell your fellows to put plenty on your body, because you're going to give your skin a good shine, and plenty of oil will make it shine like a mirror."

Another genius with the gloves was Jack Johnson. Success, however, spoiled him. Before he fell loved Tommy Burns to Sydney and loved the Canadian into defending his title. "All right," as he was called, avoided the final punishment. He became champion John, a disgraceful title. He only Intense Cold Causes Sunny Lowry To Give Up.

6 MILES IN 135 MINUTES

London, Aug. 13.

A courageous attempt to swim the Channel from Dover to France ended this morning at 6.55 when Miss Sunny Lowry, aged 21, a Manchester girl, was about 4 miles from Cap Gris Nez. She started from Shakespeare Beach, Dover, at 4.45 on Friday afternoon and so was 14 hours 10 mins. in the water.

Her trainer, Mr. Jabez Wolfe, felt confident she could reduce the present record, but Miss Lowry, like many predecessors, was beaten by the cold, and when she was lifted into the accompanying motorboat she said she felt freezing during the last three hours of the swim. She told Mr. Wolfe that she was terribly sorry to give up, but he said that he was quite satisfied with her performance and that no one could have done better under similar conditions.

Mr. E. H. Tempe, the London clerk, who in 1927 swam the Channel from France to Dover at his first attempt, in 14 hours 29 minutes, left the South Foreland, Dover, at 8.40 a.m. to-day in an endeavour to swim to France. He was accompanied by the motorboat, Ocean King, piloted by Mr. Brjckman. The sea was very calm and the weather perfect.

Tempe, however, had to abandon the swim soon after 8 o'clock at night when he was 2 or 3 miles off Calais.

Three sisters, Betty, Margaret, and Jillian Reeves, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Reeves, of Whitstable, swam from the Street, Whitstable, to Herne Bay pier, a distance of about 6 miles, in 2 hours and a quarter. The father of the girls swam the same distance 20 years ago. There was, however, a head wind blowing to-day. Miss Betty Reeves is the possessor of the Royal Humane Society's Certificate for Saving Life at Sea. Jillian is only 14 years of age.

FAMOUS BLACK BOXERS OF RECENT TIMES

INTIMATE RING STORIES

Coloured Men Who Have Achieved Fistic Fame

The astonishing victory achieved by Larry Gains over the Italian colossus, Primo Carnera, is another tribute to the wonderful instinctive boxing abilities of coloured men who have made great names in the history of pugilism, writes "Castor." Gains, by clever ringcraft and generalship, upset the theory that the Italian's immense physical advantages would prove a handicap which could not be overcome.

The coloured Canadian did not suffer from these delusions. He sensed the truth that Carnera has little idea of hitting correctly; consequently, instead of retreating from Carnera as might have been anticipated, Gains showed his contempt for Carnera's alleged sledgehammer blows by forcing the fighting throughout the ten rounds. It was a remarkable performance. Yet the result merely served to prove the triumph of mind over muscle.

Gains is an extraordinary type. He is a keen student of human nature and can discuss in interesting manner the philosophy of things that matter. A keen golfer and an ardent motorist, Gains manages to get the best out of life. He is proud of his home in Leicester, his wife and four youngsters, and his sister and parents, who live happily together under the same roof.

Science and Power. Gains owes his success in the ring mainly to his knowledge of scientific boxing. He blends science with punching power that are destructive forces to the morale of his opponents. Like the majority of coloured fighters, Gains is reserved in conversation and never attempts to make capital out of his triumphs.

Black boxers have become outstanding figures in the ring. Most of them possessed fascinating personalities, which made them striking characters in ordinary walks of life.

There never was a finer figure in the realms of boxing than Peter Jackson. A magnificent picture of perfect manhood, Jackson was one of nature's noblemen. He rightly earned the sobriquet of "Gentleman" Jackson.

Jackson on one occasion was invited to make a speech at one of the N.S.C.'s functions. He had a remarkable reception. He said: "Gentlemen, I have boxed in the National Sporting Club before, and I did my best, and I shall try my utmost to win again if I am called upon to take the ring. I know I shall receive fair play at the National." With the bow of a courtier, he concluded: "I thank you, and gentlemen; I bar no one!"

—Was there ever a finer speech delivered by a coloured sportsman?

Chivalrous Jackson. Chivalrous Jackson was a chivalrous. Those who saw his fight with Frank "Paddy" Slavin at the National Sporting Club will tell you that when he had the Australian at his mercy he refrained from inflicting unnecessary punishment. It was only when the referee Mr. Barnard

John Angle, insisted upon him carrying out the rules by continuing to box that he finished Slavin as humanely as possible. Before he left the club-house Jackson went to the Cornstalk's dressing-room and said, "Goodnight, Paddy, there cannot be two winners Good luck!" Slavin's pathetic reply was, "Good-night, Peter. The folk in Australia won't believe I'm beaten."

This memorable struggle took place 40 years ago, on May 31, 1892, on the Monday before the Derby. Jackson was one of a party of Corinthian sportsmen who journeyed to Epsom in a four-in-hand coach when he had the luck to back Sir Hugo, which was returned at the nice price of 40 to 1.

So highly was Jackson esteemed that when he passed out with that dread disease, consumption, a handsome memorial was erected over his grave by public subscription.

His fighting qualities can be gauged when I mention that the then mighty John L. Sullivan drew the "colour bar" when overtures were made to match Jackson with the "Boston Strong Boy" for the championship of the world.

Jack Johnson. Another genius with the gloves was Jack Johnson. Success, however, spoiled him. Before he fell loved Tommy Burns to Sydney and loved the Canadian into defending his title. "All right," as he was called, avoided the final punishment. He became champion John, a disgraceful title. He only

HOCKEY SENSATION IN COLONY

Hong Kong has now been preparing for the last three weeks for the visit of the hockey champions, three trials in which the Colony's leading players participated, having been held. Should the game be cancelled it will prove a great disappointment, especially after the visit of the Indian side on their way to Los Angeles and the impossibility of staging a game on that occasion owing to rain.

Mr. Divett interviewed Mr. G. E. R. Divett, the organizer of the match, in an interview this morning said that the news had come as a great shock. The only communication he had received from the Indian manager was word that the Indians would like to play an exhibition game in Hong Kong on their return from Los Angeles if it could possibly be arranged. Mr. Divett wrote back in the affirmative and Friday, September 16, was fixed for the game. The first news Shanghai had of the non-arrival of the team was when the Hon. Secretary received a reply from the Chichibu Maru to say the team were not on board.

Suspicion Confirmed. Mr. Divett said that the Hockey Club were seeking the aid of Reuters in detecting the whereabouts of the missing team and that W. E. Williams, the Welsh International, had communicated with Mr. H. C. Cassels, one of those selected to play for Shanghai, and that a reply was now being awaited. Beyond that we are unable to do anything, said Mr. Divett, and that the match will be cancelled.

President of the N.Y.A. has received the information that the team have been sighted in Shanghai and that they will be able to play the match on Saturday.

GOAL SCORERS.

Lee Wai-tong	28
Lee Yee-sun	15
Ip Pak-wah	11
Chu Kwok-luen	10
Cheng Kwai-leung	8
Wong Ka-leung	5
Wong Mei-shun	5
Tam Kong-pak	5
Yang Sul-yick	3

One goal was scored by an opposing defender.

Lee Wai-tong, the captain of the side, had the distinction of heading the goal-scoring list with 28 to his credit, thus repeating his performance of last season when he headed the list with 31 goals.

Fung King-cheung, the versatile centre-forward of the South China, was unable to make the tour this year, otherwise he might well have extended his captaincy for the honour of heading the list. Ip Pak-wah, who scored 21 last year, only registered 11 on the recent tour while Chu Kwok-luen dropped from 18 to 10.

The South China side are new ready to take their place in the local League, and are keen on recapturing the Championship they last won in the 1930-31 season with 85 points out of a possible 40. Whether they are stale after their long tour is only a matter of conjecture and the opening matches can only tell their tale.

KOWLOON RUGBY CLUB MEETING ON THURSDAY POSTPONED

Y.M.C.A. General Meeting

The Kowloon Rugby Club Meeting, which was to have been held at the European Y.M.C.A. on Thursday night, has been postponed until Friday night at 9 p.m., on account of the General Meeting of the Y.M.C.A., which is being held on Thursday.

The departure of the Argyll regiment for Shanghai has robbed the Kowloon Rugby Club of eight prospective players. Shortly before the news of their transfer was received, these players had notified the Club of their willingness to join, and had they been able to do so, the team would have been considerably strengthened.

SHIPS' OFFICERS IN THE FAR EAST.

B.O.T. Recommendations In Service.

After representations made by the Officers (Merchant Navy) Federation, Ltd., to the Board of Trade in regard to the qualifying sea service for examination purposes of officers serving in the Chinese Maritime Customs, the following recommendations have been made by the Board to the Colonial Secretary, Hong Kong.

In future, therefore, in the examinations in this country, service performed in the sea-going cruisers of the Chinese Maritime Customs Service on voyages during whose course the extreme ports visited were not less than 500 miles apart will be accepted in full as equivalent to service performed in the time actually spent at sea a foreign-going ship, provided that amounts to at least two-thirds of the time on articles, and provided that the candidate has at some time served for at least 12 months on deck in an ordinary trading vessel in the foreign trade, or the equivalent, 18 months, in the home or coasting trade. If less than two-thirds of the time on articles was spent at sea, the deficiency must be made up by additional service in accordance with paragraph 119 of the Board's examination regulations (Exn. 1).

"Service in the sea-going Customs cruisers on shorter voyages will be accepted on similar conditions, but will only count as equivalent to half the time served. "Certificates of watchkeeping service will be required in accordance with paragraph 98 of the regulations; but, in the circumstances explained, watchkeeping officers' time on duty at their stations, while the commander takes charge of operations may be counted towards the eight hours out of every 24 hours at sea, which, under this paragraph, must be spent in full (or effective) charge of a watch. In addition, the candidates must produce certificates showing the amount of time actually spent at sea, and the steaming limits of the vessels concerned."

HONG KONG TIDES.

The time used is Standard, or mean time of the meridian of 120 deg. E.; 00h. is midnight, 12hrs. is noon. The heights are referred to the datum of the largest scale Admiralty chart of the place and should be added to the depths given on the chart unless preceded by an asterisk (*), when they should be subtracted from the depths.

EXPLORING THE OCEAN BED.

Expedition To The Arabian Sea.

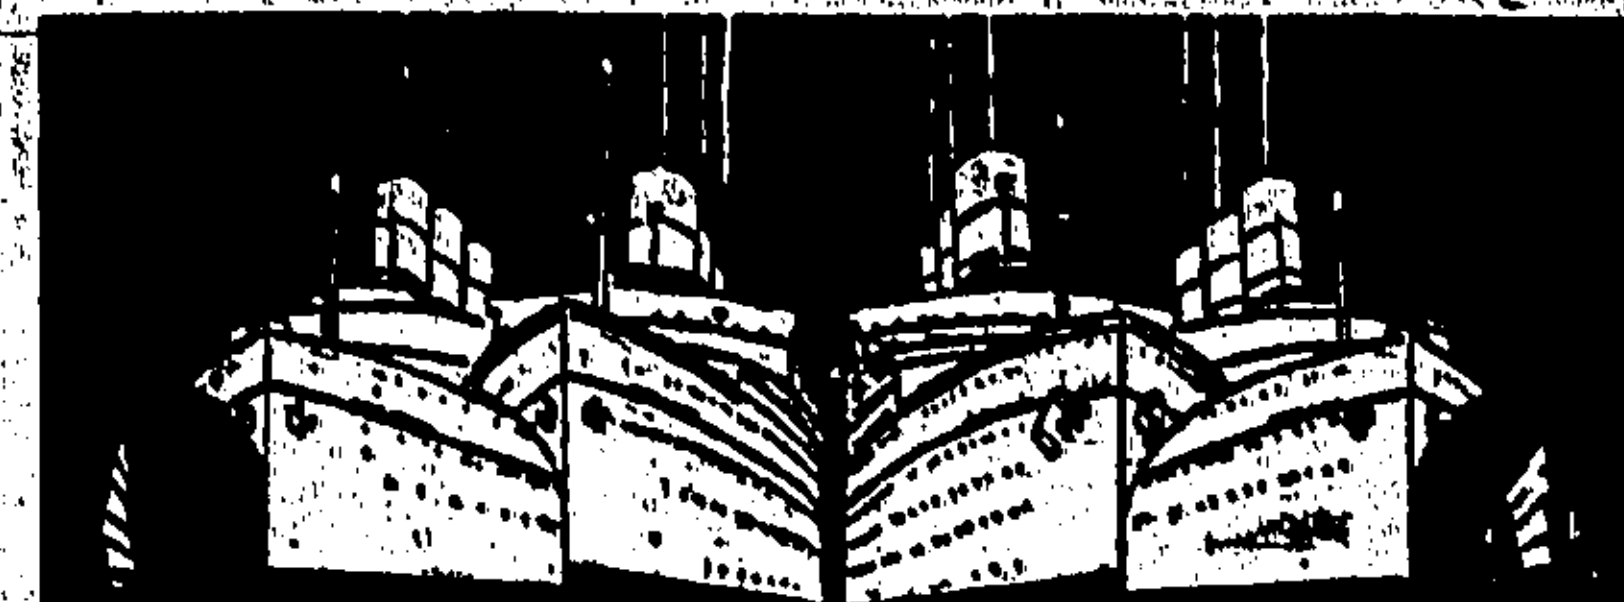

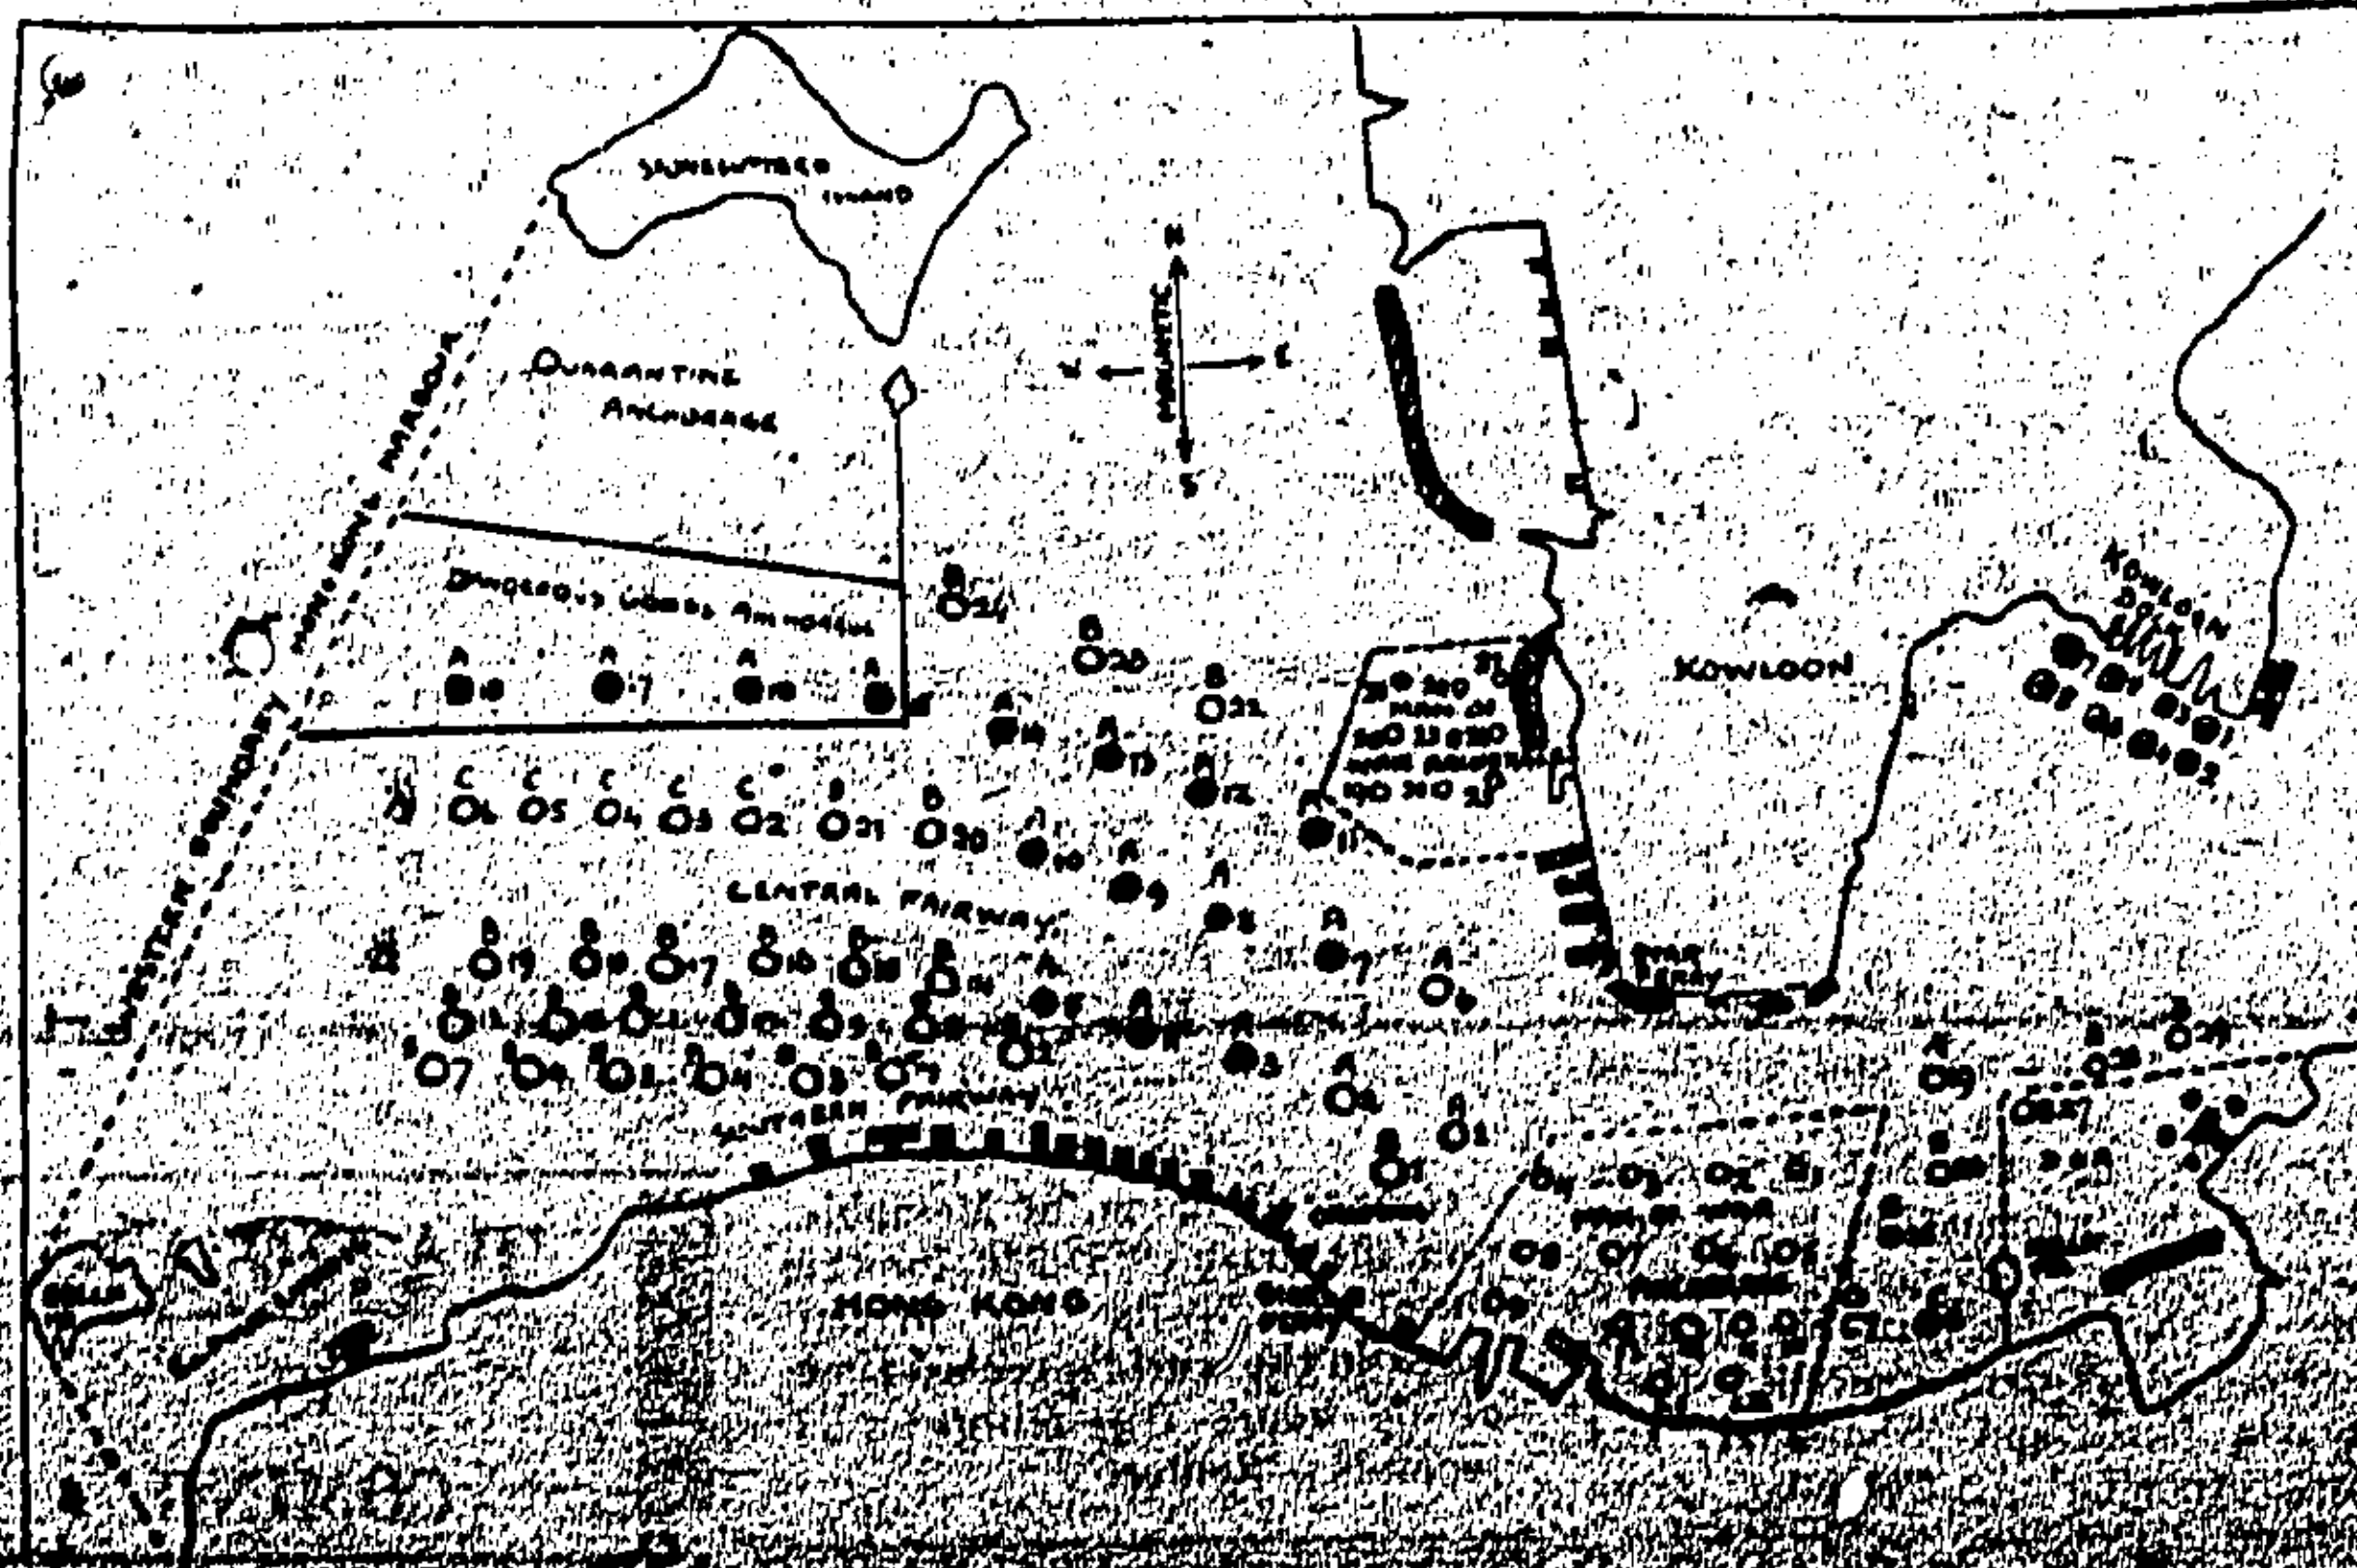

A scientific expedition to survey the Arabian Sea and the north-west Indian Ocean is now being organised in this country. The expenses are largely provided for under the terms of the will of the late Sir John Murray, whose researches with the Challenger expedition in the last century immensely extended scientific knowledge regarding the oceans.

The new expedition is to be led by Col. Seymour Sewell, director of the Indian Museum at Calcutta. It is known that parts of the Arabian Sea are of immense depth though few soundings have been taken away from the steamship routes. The main object of the expedition will be to study the topography of the ocean bottom by echo soundings and to search for traces of the hypothetical continent of Lemuria, which is supposed to have stretched from India westwards. Oceanic fauna and currents will also be studied. The committee which is arranging the expedition includes among its members Admiral Douglas, hydrographer of the Royal Navy, and representatives of the Geographical and Natural history societies.

Tonnage measurement is considered to be defective in many respects in its present form and an entirely new system is recommended.

JAPANESE VESSELS PROTECTION.

Merchants Nervous In Shanghai.

Japanese vessels leaving Shanghai with cargoes for ports along the Yangtze River are now having the protection of the Japanese naval forces, since August 4. This is given in response to requests from local Japanese commercial bodies, who have become nervous regarding the safety of their goods, because of the renewed boycott movement.
Beginning last Thursday, Japanese war vessels stationed at Wuhu, Kiukiang, Hankow and Ichang were charged with the duty of looking after the disembarking of Japanese goods at those ports. Besides the order to ensure safety on the way to their destinations, Japanese naval authorities decided to detach guardian vessels to accompany Japanese boats leaving Shanghai, aside from assigning some 20 marines to each vessel. Special caution is also taken by the Japanese landing party at the local wharves in the case of Japanese vessels coming from Japan. It is understood that the Japanese landing party in Shanghai has been given full power to protect Japanese goods.

PARLIAMENT TO SIT OCTOBER 18.

Reassembles Early To Implement Parley.

THE EMPIRE AGREEMENTS

London, To-day.
Parliament will reassemble on October 18, instead of October 27, to implement the Ottawa Economic Conference, according to an official announcement.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Macdonald, is closely engaged in studying the Conference documents, and is consulting Parliamentary authorities on procedure and draftsmen, who are already preparing a Bill to give effect to the Ottawa agreements.

Long debates are expected, especially as the Opposition intends to resist and criticise every step of the measure.—Reuter.

MAN SOLD HIS COW TO BUY OPIUM.

Visions Of Wealth End
In Prison.

The story of how a man Wu Shutong, sought to better his position financially by selling his cow and purchasing raw opium, was related to Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning.

The accused was arrested by revenue officers as he disembarked from the s.s. Tai Lee from Canton, when 46 tael of raw opium were found concealed in his luggage.

He was fined $1,000 or five months' imprisonment.

floor and also his conduct during the Communist non-confidence motion, was, by no means constitutional.

The Government states it will permit only the Foreign Affairs Committee, which safeguards the rights of Parliament, to function after dissolution.

Herr Von Papen also is awaiting to-morrow's developments before recommending to President Von Hindenburg a date for the next election.

Although Herr Goering disagrees with Chancellor Von Papen's version of the Reichstag procedure, he believes the Supreme Court, at Leipzig would hold the dissolution was effective.

Speaker Goering's decision has allayed the fears of an ugly clash to-morrow. It formed an anti-climax to an intensely exciting day, wherein Chancellor von Papen had the last word by a broadcast to the whole country. His statement, upholding the Government's viewpoint and emphasising the paramount need for national unity, particularly in view of the pending International Disarmament discussions.

"It would be intolerable for us to be treated longer as a second class nation, unprotected in the midst of a continent bristling with arms," he averred. And he added:
"The Cabinet will decide in the next few days what it intends to do in the further treatment of this vital question.—Reuter.

HEAVY LOSS AS MARKET TAKE SLUMP

New York, To-day.

The New York Stock Exchange market got the worst jolt it has had since the recent upward turn. There was a wave of selling, and losses were from two to seven points, recorded on a long list of issues.

The reasons assigned to the slump are the lack of solid signs of business improvement, and particularly the heaviness in wheat and cotton.

A total of 4,000,000 shares changed hands. Other markets also declined generally, in sympathy.

Wheat and cotton interests are withholding stocks from on-hand from the market in an attempt to rally the prices of these commodities, and the industries are receiving federal aid in this direction.—Reuter.

EX-SOLDIER BEGS FOR PASSAGE.

Refuses Trifles From Bank Manager.

An unemployed Shanghai native,
one-time soldier of the 19th Route
Army, who was, under the impression that the Bank of China was buying passages to Shanghai for deserted Chinese, got himself into serious difficulties when he begged from Mr. Lo Pin-yin, business manager of the Bank. He was fined $10 or 14 days' in gaol.

Mr. Lo stated that as he left his office yesterday, the defendant asked him to buy his fare back to Shanghai. He naturally refused, whereupon the man asked that a fare to Canton be procured for him. Very indignant, Mr. Lo said he offered him three ten-cent pieces, which the defendant refused.

A Chinese constable was called and the defendant was taken to the police station.

COURAGE OF CHINESE WORKERS PRAISED

Heroic Efforts During Flood Suffering.

London, Yesterday.

The great resource, organising ability and extraordinary courage of the Chinese technical staff of the Flood Relief Commission, is paid a tribute in a long article in The Times by Sir Hope Simpson, dealing with flood relief in China.

He emphasised the fact that the Commission was hampered in its efforts on the north bank of the Yangtze by bandits, and cites an incident in which a bandit horde in Honan overwhelmed the headquarters of the Commission and carried off its resources in grain and cash, yet when the band retreated, the Commission re-started work with a newly recruited staff.

He estimated that a thousand workmen on the north bank of the Yangtze lost their lives in a month
as a result of red raids.

The Times, in a leading article on the matter, says that it speaks well for the spirit of the Chinese employees of the Commission who faced perils without flinching.
"Indeed, an account of their work and the prevalence of Communism and banditry, in the banditry, in the Yangtze Valley, gives the impression that the Chinese deserve better leadership than the revolution has given them," it concludes.—Reuter.

"WE ARE GOING TO FIGHT."

De Valera's Warning
Of "No Compromise."

Dublin, Yesterday.
Mr. Eamon de Valera declared to-day:

"We are going to fight, and we are going to win. We must be prepared for sacrifices but there is no soft bargain with Britain."

Mr. de Valera had nothing fresh to say on the land annuities question. He argued that the present plight of the Irish farmers was not entirely due to the "Thomas Duties," but the fact that the purchasing power, of the people of Britain was steadily dwindling;
hence they were forced to buy chilled, instead of fresh meat.

Mr. de Valera denied that "intimidation existed in the Free State or that the Government was conniving for disorder. It did not welcome the formation of a "White Army" because it was unnecessary, as the Government itself was making arrangements for a volunteer army throughout the country, under the strict control of the Government. No other would be tolerated.

"If we wanted 50,000 men tomorrow, we could have them," he declared. "There are people across the water waiting patiently for some position to develop in the Free State to get them out of their present difficulties. We have no fear on that account. Britain will have to prove its title to the annuities in a fair court. We are prepared to agree to arbitration, but there is to be no restriction whatever upon the choice of our nominees. The choice of the nominees by each party, and of the chairman, should be without restriction."—Reuter.
